On June 28, 2012, the United States Supreme Court released its ruling in the National Federation of Independent Business, et al., v. Sebelius, Secretary of Health and Human Services, et al. finding the law to be constitutional. In the majority opinion, the constitutionality of the individual mandate section of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA) — the centerpiece of the case — was upheld under the rationale that the constitutional power to levy taxes sufficiently extended to the law. Based on this landmark decision, physicians will be faced with and challenged by an extreme acceleration of changes with activity in the medical practice and a new set of patients flooding primary care offices requiring immediate care.

Desired Learning Outcomes: At the completion of this learning activity, participants should be able to:

- Explain how they fit into the implementation of the Affordable Care Act from a legal point of view.
- Identify how the political process in the next several months may affect that implementation.
- Cite key elements of a compliance plan that will protect them from some of the new fraud and abuse provisions contained in the Affordable Care Act.

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Education (ACCME). The Chicago Medical Society is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The Chicago Medical Society designates this live activity for a maximum of 1.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit (s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
